Trip to Seoul

SEOUL

Seochon traditional market + Hanbok Experience

Seochon is located at the west side of the Gyeongbokgung Palace. Have some traditional food in Tongin Market. You can change money to old time token in Korea and use it to buy food. Then you can walk around Hanok village with Hanbok (Korean traditional clothes).

Walk around narrow alleys of Ikseon-dong

Ikseon-dong contains both old and modern look of Korea. In narrow alleys stretching close to one another, some unique and trendy shops catch eyes of people.

Bukchon Hanokstay

Try Hanokstay in Bukchon Hanok Village. Comfort yourself and enjoy staying in Korean traditional housing.

Hangang Park (Bicycle ride, delivery food)

Rent a 'Seoul Bike' and enjoy your ride alongside Hangang River. You can also try some delivery food out there at Hangang park.

Some Sevit

Located under the Banpo-daegyo Bridge, Some Sevit looks like three islands floating on the river. At night, lightings on the building surface make it a famous night scene attraction.

Rainbow Fountain

Famous for its night view, fountain installed on the side of the Banpodaegyo Bridge works regularly at fixed times.

Trip to Gyeonggi

GYEONGGI

Yangpyeong Dumulmeori

This is where Bukhangang River and Namhangang River meet. It's a perfect photo spot with beautiful scenery as a background.

Petite France

French themed village which is a reproduction of Montpellier streets in Southern France.

The Garden of Morning Calm

Beautiful garden selected as a must-go place by CNN.

Hwaseong Fortress, Suwon

In Joseon Dynasty, King Jeongjo built this fortress for defensive purpose while moving his father's (Prince Jang Heon) tomb and people to a new political basis.

Nammun Market, Suwon

If you walk alongside the wall after the Hwaseong Fortress Tour, you will see Nammun Market. This is a group of nine markets merged to form a large traditional market. This is a perfect place for a night view.

Korean Folk Village

Folk Village was created with actual old house, back in Joseon Dynasty, moved and restored from different regions of Korea. Based on historical evidence and advisory, the village reflects the life of people in the past.
